

Y1 half-term learning grid

Talk, think, read, write	Design and create	Let's perform
Read some different menus, then write a menu for an afternoon tea fit for The Queen. What do you think is The Queen's favourite food? Stick it in your homework book.	Using your recycling resources at home, can you make a junk model of a famous London landmark? Bring it in for display in our classroom.	Find a famous landmark in London that you would like to visit. Map out your journey from Brighton going on the train and using The London Underground. Be prepared to tell the class about the journey.
Write a letter to The Queen telling her all about yourself. Can you think of some interesting facts to tell her about you?	Make an afternoon tea fit for The Queen. What delicious food might you include? Think about drinks too! Take a photo and stick it in your homework book.	Can you learn a Spring Poem? Think about what actions you can add to make it exciting for your audience.
Write an acrostic poem about London. Can you think of some interesting adjectives to use? Remember how you set out an acrostic poem.	Design and make a Royal Crown. How will you decorate it? Can you include a repeating pattern? Take a photo of you wearing it and stick it in your homework book.	Write a Queen's speech. Get an adult at home to record you saying it. You might want to dress up in a smart outfit when you deliver your speech.